REPORT OF FOUNDATIONAL NUMARACY AND LITERACY (FLN)

Nurturing Foundational Literacy and Numeracy in the Early Grades. Organized different activities in the grade 1 to 3 under FLN.

Activities planned and conducted to improve the language skill-

- Listen To English Poems And Stories-

Music is a great mood healer. It has a significant impact on everybody, and hence students prefer to tune in to their favourite poems and stories. It had a repetitive pattern that is easy to memorize. Students especially remembered poems and stories at a faster pace. Listening to these helped them learn the pronunciation of certain words and enhance their vocabulary to express their thoughts. Motivate Them At Every Step.

When we started communicating in English, there were chances that our student tried his best to respond in simple English sentences. Initially, the students made mistakes and repeat them. It was our responsibility to correct him without making them feel upset. Motivated them tried harder and spoke again. Made this a habit, and we saw significant developments in oral skill the days to come.

- Picture Storytelling-

Picture storytelling can be an exciting activity, as students loved to tell about the picture. We asked him to arrange them in a logical sequence and spin a story from it. Alternatively, we offered him just one picture, and have him describe the things he perceives in the picture, like the scenery, people, colours, and other details.

This exciting activity will not only promote student oral language skills but will also help him get comfortable with public speaking. We proposed various themes, ranging from the recitation of a favourite poem to expressing his views on different pictures. By asked him to prepare a short presentation for a family gathering, local park functions, or anywhere he feels comfortable.

- Build on existing knowledge-

If we are reading about a poem An Apple, asked students to record or explain what they already knew about An Apple. We made the students understood the key terms and ideas before we read the text, so everyone started on the same page (literally). These helped students drew inferences and made connections between the text and things that they already knew.

Explore Different Forms of Reading Material: Many of the top rated children's literature are available in tape and book form that we have used. In which children read literature together in a book while listening to the same book on audio. Seeing and listening to words and phrases together enhances cognitive functioning and allows children to learn more about the practical use of punctuation marks, and learn to pronounce difficult words.

By Strengthen Spelling Skills: we made flashcards of difficult words, it helped child to practice spelling the words out loud or on paper. Students were given opportunity to double-check spelling and find mistakes independently. This was a great strategy to use. It taught students to self-correct and also reduced their fear of trying to tackle difficult words.

Activities conducted for Numeracy skill

Students have been taught number through various activities which help them to learn numbers like Using flash cards showing numbers with spellings 12345678910
Using of Different objects- How many chairs are there in your house?

Count your fingers?

Number of spoons

Through pictures students counted the objects in the pictures and write. Writing practice was given i.e. tracing of numbers.

For basic operations addition and subtraction Draw one flower and draw another flower, altogether 2 flowers.

Day to Day to life experience have been shared to teach addition and subtraction eg. A students drink one glass of water in the morning, and one glass in afternoon how many glasses of water he drank ?
